

Nothing is Stable: Conserving Cultural Heritage in a Changing World

Nothing is Stable: Conserving Cultural Heritage in a Changing World

IIC brought together members and colleagues around the world during #COP26, to produce this film - showing the work of conservators from Sudan to Egypt, UK to India and Antarctica. It demonstrates both the peril our cultural heritage faces from the climate emergency, and the steps the conservation profession is taking to address it.

You can see a full picture of our work during COP26 here.

There is also a short, two minute version here: