

Call for Papers: 7th Papyrus Curatorial and Conservation Meeting

Submitted by Marina Herriges on 18 Dec 2023

Thu, 01/02/2024 - 00:00

The Dutch National Museum of Antiquities is delighted to host the Seventh Papyrus Curatorial and Conservation Meeting. The two day symposium is open to museum professionals and scholars working with papyrus collections. It provides an unique forum for conservators, curators and researchers to meet and discuss challenges they face around acces, preservation and research of papyrus collections.

Date: 6 and 7 June 2024

Location: Rijksmuseum van Oudheden Leiden, The Netherlands

Costs: 30 euro (incl lunch both days)

Maximum participants: 50.

Call for papers

We are now inviting proposals for individual papers of 20 minutes on subjects related to:

- Conservation and preservation
- Cataloguing
- Digitisation and access
- Funding opportunities
- Ongoing and completed projects
- Research

Submissions should include a title, summary (max. 200-300 words) and bio (max. 50 words). Please submit your proposals by a message to Eliza Jacobi by 1 February 2024. Successful submissions will be announced in March 2024 with a full program to follow.

www.rmo.nl/en/research/conferences-and-congresses/...