² Please note that you are applying to become a candidate for election. Results will not be out until IIC members have voted in January 2023. Also note that UK Charity Commission and Companies House regulation requires all Directors to declare that they are able to stand for the position.

³ This manifesto will be shown publicly to IIC members and is intended to convince them to vote for you. Please do not exceed 250 words.
